When Jake Becker was diagnosed with Acute Lymphocytic Leukemia (ALL) he underwent chemotherapy. Unfortunately, the treatment caused Pancreatitis, and in 2008 Jake's pancreas was removed. He lives with chronic pain, diabetes and is now waiting for a pancreas transplant at the Cleveland Clinic.

Since having his pancreas removed, Jake has been unable to return to work or live a normal life. This transplant will not only save Jake's life, but allow him to experience a quality of life he hasn't known for years. "Pass The Pancreas Please" is an effort to help raise funds for this 29-year-old man to help assist with his many uninsured transplant-related expenses (approx $20,000).

Please join Jake's friends & family for a day of food, fun & entertainment. Donations are tax-deductible. Also please pray with us that a viable pancreas is found soon for Jake.

Please visit passthepancreasplease.com or www.ntafund.org and enter Jacob Becker in the Find a Patient section of homepage to learn more about Jake.
